

TWO TIME W.C. HANDY AWARD
NOMINEE TAD ROBINSON RETURNS WITH A NEW BAND, NINE NEW
ORIGINALS, TWO CLASSIC SOUL GEMS AND A NEW POINT OF VIEW.

This collection of modern soul/blues has reverberations of past singers and yet is a forward leap for the music. Truly a hand-made project, A New Point of View was made the "old-school" way with tender loving care.

Originals like "Long Way Home" give a nod to Issac Hayes, while Johnnie Taylor's "Ain't That Lovin' You (For More Reasons than One)" draws more inspiration from Dennis Brown's version than the original. Each song creates a balance between classic and modern style.

Horn and string arrangements by arranger Willie Henderson (Tyrone Davis, Chi-Lites), burnish the tracks with harmonic sophistication never sacrificing Robinson's vocals in the process.

The band's performance is a marvel of democracy; equal parts blues and soul coming together to create the canvas that Robinson is free to fill with color and personality.

"When Tad Robinson dies, he's going to soul heaven ... a place reserved for a very few people."* – OTIS CLAY

"Robinson places near the top of the list of the finest living singers of soul blues. His Upward-bound voice is of a genuinely handsome quality and he uses it with confidence."* – FRANK-JOHN HADLEY, DOWNBEAT
